

before that the Chinese and others were so fond of samshu.

"No, samshu is not the name of any particular liquor. It is the Chinese name for spirituous liquors of all kinds. Many people, not Chinese, frequently come here and ask me for samshu. Now, such a request is very confusing to me.

"Now, then, I have wines, whisky and gin of many Chinese brands here. The gin is white, the whisky yellowish, and the majority of the wine red. You may be surprised when I tell you that all Chinese liquors are manufactured from rice, but such is the case. Were it not for rice there would be no Chinamen—not because liquor is made from that cereal, but because its uses in China are innumerable.

"The power of intoxication of our liquor, I claim, to be above the average, but, then, I would not have this go abroad, as it might have a very bad effect, particularly since everything in my store is so cheap. The highest priced article in the house is only $1.50. I am sorry I cannot let you have a taste of my Hongkong best, but it has been a rule with me never to open a bottle as my good-heartedness would soon get the better of me, and, then—my wife. However, I can put you on the track of some one that has bought liquor here recently, and he might do something for you.

"My customers? Well, that is rather an embarrassing question, for I do not like to give away the weaknesses of my patrons. But I will tell you that most of my patronage comes from Chinese and Hawaiians. White men are not very far behind. Those who come here once always return.

"No, I cannot give credit. Oh, you do not want credit? Well, of course, to my good customers I give credit; but know the limit to which I can safely go.

"All my liquor comes from Hongkong, to which place it is brought from surrounding smaller towns and cities.

"You remark upon the irregularity in size of bottles. Well, you see, most of the bottles used for liquor are mixed ones shipped to China from foreign ports. A large cargo was sent away from here recently. These bottles are collected anywhere and everywhere. Chinese are not particular what the samshu is put in, so they get it.

"Well, I thought you were going to buy something. You are a newspaper man? I can open a bottle if you want me to, but it is against my rules."

HAWAIIAN SUGAR.

Cargoes to be Shipped from the Islands Around the Horn.

Anticipating a short sugar crop in Cuba on account of the revolution there, the sugar trust has contracted for the delivery in Philadelphia and New York of large quantities of Hawaiian raw sugars. Eight large ships have been chartered to load full cargoes at Honolulu for the Delaware Breakwater for orders, for which they will receive $5.75 per ton freight. The crop of Hawaiian sugar for shipment is reported as unusually large, and from present appearances much of it will be shipped direct to the Atlantic coast. Claus Spreckels is said to have acted for the trust and to have secured options on nearly the entire crop. The fleet of sailing craft already chartered for Atlantic ports includes the ships Iroquois, Roanoke, H. Villard, Dirigo, Indiana, Reaper, Occidental and W. F. Babcock.

CLAUDINE NEARLY SUNK.

The steamer Claudine came near being sunk yesterday morning. Some sugar had been discharged from the forward port hole on the starboard side and this had been left open while the dock hands were sent aft to discharge sugar from the port side. This threw the steamer's bow forward and gave her a list to starboard. The port hole was but a half foot from the water line when discharging was begun and it took but a short while to reduce this so that the water rushed in. Fortunately the hands were alert and, shoving the Claudine away from the wharf, succeeded in closing the port before any great amount of water could get in. It is thought but little damage was done the sugar.

Shoot for Medals.

Captain Camara, of Company C, has divided his command into four classes to shoot for medals during the next six months. The highest two scores in each month will be picked, and at the end of the limit a gold medal each will be given first and second place and a silver medal third and fourth.

CLASS IN CHILD-STUDY.

Plan of Work Arranged for Opening Tomorrow Afternoon.

It was once the fashion to think that if a college girl married, she wasted all she had gained from her curriculum. At the present time the belief prevails that the college courses of today do not equip our women with the technical knowledge that should serve them in the exacting demands of motherhood and child culture. Therefore, educators are now turning to the children themselves to learn how to teach.

The class in child-study and psychology has just re-organized and will meet Wednesdays at 2:25 p. m. at the High school building. A plan for work has been arranged. It was decided to send for Millicent Shinn's "Notes on the Development of a Child" to be used as a text book and to digress from as may seem wise. For tomorrow the class will bring examples of imitiveness in children. It is desirable that mothers should take up this part of the course which alternates weekly with psychology. Both are free. There will be only a small expenditure for books. Mrs. Dr. Andrews will lead the child-study, and Mr. Dumas the psychology, with Krohn's text-book.

Concerning the child-study of last year, Professor Barnes, of California, has written appreciatively of the work done here, the brunt of which fell on Miss Brewer and a few others.

It is hoped to welcome new faces tomorrow and wish that these subjects may soon be as popular as tennis.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Rowles, of Hollands, Va., has to say below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances: "Last winter I had a gripe which left me in a low state of health. I tried numerous remedies, none of which did me any good, until I was induced to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cent bottles by all druggists and dealers.
